'Tis the Season to be with Mr. Mailbag

Dear Mr. Mailbag,
Can you please explain why it's only "The 12 Days of Christmas"?
—13 Lords-a-Prancing

Dear Prancing Lords,
"The 12 Days Of Christmas" was originally written in A.D. 1215 by a man named Jerome Partridge. As it turns out, his mother-in-law was staying with his family during the Christmas holiday and it seemed to Mr. Partridge that she would never leave. Fortunately for him, his house was so small and unaccommodating and drafty that his mother-in-law got fed up and left.

Had Jerome Partridge been in a spacious, warm, energy efficient HD Home, we might have a song called "The 48 Days of Christmas" which was the intended visit length of his mother-in-law.

Dear Santa Mailbag,
I'm trying to think of a Christmas gift for my spouse. What are your thoughts about 1) a stun gun 2) a new car or 3) a coupon booklet?
Thanks,
C. W. Grizwold,

Dear Mr. Grizwold,
I like that you came to Santa Mailbag for gift giving advice. I have to say I'm a little concerned about your choices of cadeaux for the misses. If you give a stun gun then you risk the chance it could be used on you...not smart move. If you give a new car then you're stuck with 60 months of payments (talk about the gift that keeps on giving)...not a smart move. The coupon booklet, while creative, can end up costing you a lot of weekends doing honey-do's instead of sitting on the couch watching TV...not smart move.

The smartest move you can make is to buy her a brand new HD Home! With the HD Home of her dreams—now she will think twice about using a stun gun on you and with a brand new home under warranty, there won't be any need for weekend honey-do's!

So it's a smart move for you and a great gift for your spouse!

Dear Economist Mailbag,
What is your real estate forecast for Fort Worth in 2012?
Appreciate it,
Former Tax Lady now Mayor

Dear Mayor Tax Collector,
I'm glad that you came to Mr. Mailbag for sound advice. My forecast is varied. For HD Homes the future is nothing but bright. We doubled our sales and closings from 2010 to 2011 and expect similar results in 2012. We are firing on all cylinders in the Keller ISD area, Cultural District and now in the Kennedale/Mansfield area.

Mr. Mailbag has a great team of sales consultants that are helping prospective clients make smart moves.

Other than that...Mr. Mailbag would urge caution on over-spending for gold, certain airline stocks and faith in the U.S. Congress to pull their collective heads out of their keesters.

2012 could be a banner year if the American people elect anyone (Tea, Democrat or Republican) who cares more about the future of our country and making smart moves than gathering goodies in Washington to take back to their districts to the demise of our great society...Mr. Mailbag isn't sure that type of politician exists.

Call 817.737.0101 and ask to speak with one of our fantastic sales consultants should you be in immediate need of an HD Home before our taxes increase, our economy collapses and we start looking more and more like Greece. Mr. Mailbag is headed for the egg nog bar.

Oh well...Merry Christmas anyways!
